Burglar Uses Ruse To Loot Home Here

Madison Police Thwart Theft of Copper; RR Car Opened, Looted

A burglar who apparently got the occupant to leave her house by a ruse took an undetermined amount of money in coins from the home of Virginia Peach, 1800 Second street, Madison, police reported at 9:45 p.m. Thursday. Officers said the television set in the Peach home had been moved near the door but the burglar apparently did not have time to haul it away.

The woman told officers she received a telephone call from a man Thursday afternoon, informing her that her father was gravely ill and that she should go to his home. She said she went to her father's home, learned he was not there. She waited until 6 p.m. before she learned he was not there, she said.

She discovered the burglary when she returned home later that night. Police said the burglar gained by tearing a plastic covering off a window.

Copper Tubing Theft
Two men arrested early Friday as suspects in the burglary of the Markly Plumbing & Heating Co., 1007 Madison avenue, and the theft of a large amount of copper tubing and scrap from the firm, were released by Madison police Saturday after investigation failed to tie them in with the break-in, police reported.

Police said they were called at 3:35 a.m. Friday by a man who reported seeing three persons walking toward a car near 12th street and Madison avenue carrying a quantity of copper tubing.

Officers checked the area and found the rear door of the plumbing firm had been broken in. A large amount of copper tubing and boxes of scrap copper were found stacked against the north side of the building.

About an hour later, police noticed a car pull up behind the building. Several men got out and began placing copper in the car, police reported, but the men sighted the police almost immediately and fled on foot.

Police later picked up the men as suspects. They were questioned and released. Police impounded the abandoned auto, a 1961 station wagon, and the owner is being sought.

Theft from RR Car
Seventeen cases of canned beer were stolen from a freight car early Friday morning by thieves who broke the seal on the car after 1 a.m. when it was rolled onto the tracks at the Kacera Distributing Co.

GC Architects To Redesign 'San' For Nursing Home

The firm of Gabriel & Dulgeroff, Granite City architects, was awarded a contract to convert the former Madison county tuberculosis sanatorium into a nursing home by the new trustees of the county TB association, it was announced today.

The board, composed of Lawrence Lockhart, chairman, and Dr. Robert Blankenship, both of Granite City, and David Norrembers of Collinsville last week adopted a resolution to use $300,000 for surplus sanatorium tax funds to remodel the three-story building to meet modern state nursing home requirements.

The trustees hope to let bids for the work by early November. The building, located at Edwardsville, will then be turned over to the county to replace the present nursing home which has a small capacity and will not meet state requirements.

The architects said four months will be required before the project is ready for bids, including three months for planning work and another month to obtain state approval of the specifications.

The firm is not yet in a position to give an estimate of the overall cost of the project.

The work will include a new heating system, partitions to meet safety requirements, new kitchen facilities and central nurses stations.

The first floor of the building will continue to serve as a TB outpatient clinic until a new clinic building is constructed on the same grounds. That floor will then be remodeled.

The new nursing home will accommodate more than 100 residents. The old district hospital, which has a capacity of 50 patients, is to be closed as it cannot meet new state standards.

One Area Candidate
Of the ten candidates for the 53rd senatorial district, three are from Alton, four from Edwardsville, one from the Quad-City area and one each from Wood River and Troy.

The 53rd district comprises the four townships of the Quad-City area—Granite City, Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau—and six other Madison county townships, Edwardsville, Alton, Wood River, Godfrey, Jarvis and Troy.

New Plea To State For Area Flood Aid

Ebersoldt Says Levee Dist. Short of Money; May Cut Off Pumping

Another plea that the state take action in the Quad-City flood problem—the second such request within a week—was to be made in Springfield this afternoon in a "surprise visit" to the office of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

The request was planted by William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice, Madison county member of the East Side Levee and Sanitary district who left here shortly before noon today "to meet with the governor, his aides or anybody else I can find to tell them how serious our situation is."

Ebersoldt said his renewed efforts to obtain emergency aid for relief of the flood-stricken Dorey Slough area of Nameoki Township were prompted by the fact that the levee district is "running out of money" and will be forced to suspend pumping operations at Dorey Slough by Saturday if some form of financial aid is not found.

He said he made no advance arrangements for a meeting before leaving for Springfield today.

State Must Act
"I am going to try to meet with the governor," Ebersoldt said, "but failing that, I'll meet with his assistants, his aides or anyone else that I can get to listen. The state has to do something."

Meanwhile, efforts were continuing today to lower the level of Dorey Slough which poured out of its banks in last week's heavy rains, flooded the New Haven area and backed up into the Cloverleaf area of Granite City. The levee district and Granite City were operating a total of six pumps in the New Haven-Cloverleaf area today, three by the levee district and three by the city.

Ebersoldt said that if he were successful in meeting with Gov. Ogilvie, he would repeat his request of last Thursday that the Dorey Slough area of Nameoki township be declared a "disaster area," the only action necessary for a governor to clear the way for an emergency federal grant that would finance installation of drainage facilities in the slough area.

While heavy rains still were plaguing the area, Ebersoldt arranged a meeting with the governor's staff in Springfield at the 2:30 p.m. session of the governor was in Chicago.

Met With Assistant
He met instead with William Hays, the governor's legislative counsel who, Ebersoldt said, informed the levee board trustee that damage to the levee board's property must be repaired before a stricken section can be declared a disaster area.

"I explained to him how extensive the damage to homes has become in our area, but he said public property must be involved," Ebersoldt said.

Federal aid to help solve the flood problem in the New Haven-Cloverleaf area is essential because the levee district cannot keep up the financial drain resulting from prolonged pumping operations, Ebersoldt said.

He explained that combined pumping operations by the city and the levee district is costing "at least $1000 a day." He said the levee board is short of funds and is operating now on anticipated funds. In addition, operation of the levee district pumping stations has been costly during recent weeks because of the high stage of the Mississippi river.

He said the levee district already has spent $10,000 to $12,000 to pump Dorey Slough, and that pumping operations necessary to get the slough back to normal will require at least another month, assuming there is no more rain to add to the problem. The levee district began pumping operations at Dorey Slough on July 3, three days before the area rains of last week hit the area.

Of 6.74 inches of rain fell from Sunday, July 6, through last Friday morning, Granite City began pumping.

County Crops Storm Damage Estimated to Top $500,000

Flood, rain, wind and hail damaged all crops in Madison county with the loss estimated at a half-million dollars by Warren Bundy, Madison county executive.

"Wheat suffered the most severe damage. Two-thirds of the wheat crop still was unharvested at the end of last week. Much wheat is lodged severely. Some will not be harvested. The rest will yield lower," the adviser said today.

"Weeds are a major problem in corn and bean fields. Muddy fields prevented farmers from cultivating to keep weeds under control," he pointed out.

"Yellow, stunted corn and stunted soybeans are the rule in flat fields that drain slowly. Water ponded in low areas killed corn and soybeans. Hay cut and rained on before it could be baled is ruined."

"Much soil erosion occurred that represents a long-term loss on which it's hard to place a dollar value. All farmers suffered loss, but we still have large acreages of corn and soybeans that look good."

"Annual gross farm income in Madison county is around $30 million, but most of the loss suffered by storms will come out of net farm income, because farmers already have incurred most of the production expenses."

"Wheat harvest will continue as fields dry. The downed grain, weed growth, damp ground and high humidity may make it impossible to harvest wheat at the 12% moisture level needed for storage. Mechanical drying will be necessary," Bundy stated.

Seven Undergo Surgery At Local Hospital

The following are recovering at St. Elizabeth Hospital from surgery which they underwent since Thursday:

Betty Knecht, Collinsville; Myrtle Osburn, East St. Louis; Fred L. Hacke Jr., 26 Riverside drive; Sandra Corbett, Rural Route Two; Clara Bell Strange, 4250 Lake drive; Dr. Felicia Koch, 2641 Edison avenue; and Randy Johns, Rural Route Two.

Dorey Slough went up nearly 2 1/2 feet as a result of last week's heavy rains and efforts are being made by the Levee District and the city to lower it by pumping operations started 10 days ago. The pump at Ponton Plaza Apartments lowered the slough eight inches before last week's rains caused extensive basement and street flooding.

FIRE DEPT. PUMPER in operation at Vesco and Lynch avenues throughout the weekend in a continuing effort to rid the residential area of foul-smelling flood waters from last week's six inches of rain. The water is being pumped to catch basins that empty into the Nameoki storm water drainage ditch.

$2.50 Pay Plan For Sheet Metal Workers Accepted

A strike by sheet metal workers ended when members of Sheet Metal Workers Union Local 288 agreed to accept a three-year contract calling for pay increases totaling $2.50 per hour in voting conducted Friday night.

The new agreement provides increases of 40 cents per hour now, 35 cents on Jan. 1, another 75 cents in July, 1970, and another $1 on July 1, 1971. The old pay scale was $5.45 per hour.

Little change was made in travel pay, which also was a major issue. Mileage will remain at eight cents per mile after 20 miles, and if an employee is required to remain away from his home base overnight, the contract provides expenses of $5.50 a day, an increase from the previous $6 rate.

Other terms include an increase from 45 to 50 cents per hour over the base scale for foremen, and an increase of vacation pay from four to six per cent.

The strike began July 2 as union members walked off of the job in 38 southern Illinois counties. The new agreement was negotiated in behalf of the Tri-City Sheet Metal Contractors Association and the Egyptian Sheet Metal Association.

The walkout involved about 300 union members in the 30 county jurisdiction. Most of the sheet metal shop owners belong to one of the two associations.

The union had sought salary increases of $1 an hour per year over a three-year contract, a reduction in the travel limit for mileage payments and a $12 extra payment if required to remain overnight.

CYSTIC FIBROSIS CAMPAIGN chairman, Mrs. Alice Worthen, accepts the first contribution from her grandson, Joseph Alan Donaldson, 2½, who is a victim of the disease which is a major cause of death in young children.

Mrs. Worthen is hosting the Madison county drive which is to be conducted in September.

Mrs. Worthen Appointed C/F Campaign Chairman

Mrs. Alice Worthen, 3224 Avenue Avenue, has been appointed Madison county chairman for a fund campaign to be conducted Sept. 1 for the Gateway chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

Named as honorary chairman is Dallas Maxvill, a member of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team.

Mrs. Worthen currently is recruiting volunteers to conduct a door-to-door march in the county, the first to be held here in the fight against the disease which often is fatal to children.

Canisters and posters are to be distributed throughout the county during the latter part of August, the chairman said.

Mrs. Worthen and her husband, James "Red" Worthen, have two grandchildren afflicted with the disease. One died, and another is now 2½ years old.

Victims May Live

The importance of the campaign, Mrs. Worthen said, is that because of research during the past 10 years, victims can live into their 20s, but many do not survive early childhood.

One in about every 1000 babies is born with cystic fibrosis. In cystic fibrosis, certain glands do not function properly. The mucus glands secrete an abnormally thick, gluey mucus, and the sweat glands produce an unusually salty sweat. The sticky mucus is responsible for the principal complications.

and Pin Oak. The district includes 144 of the county's 189 voting precincts.

Delegates from this district include Charles M. Meadows, 4122 Lake drive; Doreen D. Young, Dan O'Neill and Edwin A. Roller, all of Alton; Victor L. Darnell, Bloice W. Yount, Alan Franz and Wendell Durr, all of Edwardsville; Ray Johnson of Troy; and Leticia B. Ringering of Wood River.

The Supreme Court ruling also rejected arguments that state senate districts from which delegates will be elected do not meet one-man, one-vote requirements of the U. S. Supreme Court.

The high court held that a loyalty oath for delegates was unconstitutional, and that if a judge became a delegate he would have to vacate his office.

On the question of which public officials could serve as delegates, the court opinion said the only ones barred are the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction, state auditor and attorney general.

Two Justices disagreed. The majority opinion was written by Justice Byron House of Newville and concurred in by four other justices.

Justices Walter Schaefer and Daniel Ward, both of Chicago, dissented. They disagreed with the finding that legislators could serve as delegates, maintaining that legislators hold lucrative offices under the state and therefore are prevented by the constitution from serving in another paid position.

As for the one-man, one-vote requirement, the majority opinion held that it is not applicable to the election of congressional delegates "where the only authority of the members is to propose amendments to be submitted to a vote of the people at large."

Long, Unselfish Efforts to Obtain a Lake Park Cited

Efforts to secure development of Horseshoe Lake as a state park will continue despite a published comment last week criticizing backers of the proposal, Henry D. Karandjeff, chairman of the Horseshoe Lake Area Commission, said today.

An appropriation to permit state acquisition of the lake and nearby property was adopted by overwhelming majorities in the Illinois House and Senate.

Research in Computer Statistics Instruction

The National Science Foundation has announced a $7000 grant for research on "Instructional Use of Computers in Statistics."

The project will be under the direction of Professor R. N. Pendergrass, chairman of the mathematics faculty. He reports, "The purpose of the project is to develop techniques to permit students to solve more realistic problems through the use of computers." A two-fold benefit of the program, he said, is to make statistics more meaningful to students and to provide practical experience.

The professor noted that the value of such training is being pointed out by "the surprisingly large number of mathematic graduates who are going to work for firms in computer usage capacities."

Within-Plant Courses Adding New Job Skills

For a woman who never formally completed her high school education, Mrs. Wayne (Joy) Augsburgberger, Glen Carbon, has done well in the business world. She is the personal secretary of Paul Kemp, manager of Granite City's A. O. Smith Corp. plant, which turns out many thousands of auto frames for the General Motors Corp. annually.

Mrs. Augsburgberger gives much of the credit for her success to the SIU-SW in-plant non-credit instruction courses given by the University's Technical and Adult Education Division.

It was a long haul for Mrs. Augsburgberger, who attended night classes at A. O. Smith weekly for six years. The courses were taught by staff instructors of SIU-SW, starting with quality control (1963) and continuing with practical psychology for supervisors (1965), labor management relations (1966), industrial report writing (1966), effective speaking for supervisors (1966), English reviews (1967), the supervisor and his job (1968) and reading improvement (1969).

Mrs. Augsburgberger, who has a son, Wayne Jr., 29, and a daughter, Debbie, 17, urges all young girls in high school to take and master typing, a skill which is sorely needed in the business world today.

"Even if a girl marries and does secretarial work will definitely come in handy. And, if something happens and your husband dies, you'll have a skill which is sorely needed in the business world today."

About ten years ago, Mrs. Augsburgberger and her husband, Wayne, and the children were living in Decatur, Ill., and she decided to go back to work. In 1960, Augsburgberger, who works for the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad, was transferred back to this area and she took a job at A. O. Smith.

She was hired at first as a stenographer in the inspection department. "I found that, although I'd started to brush up on my shorthand and my typ-

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Norma Flowers of Madison; his father, Guy Huff of Brownfield, Ill.; two brothers, Merl Huff of Quincy, Wash., and David Huff of Electric, Wash.; four sisters, Mrs. Lurline Oehler of Granite City, Mrs. Barbara Loomer of Worden, Mrs. Zora Ethridge of Brownsville, Ill., and Mrs. Nellie Dinsmore of Staunton, Ill.; one grandchild and one great-grandchild.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

For the record, though, Mrs. Augsburgberger did in effect finish high school when, in 1949, she went to Edwardsville high school and took a two-day part given by the Madison county superintendent of schools and passed.

How was she able to manage all this extra work and study? "My husband is just about the most understanding and patient man in the world," she answered. "He has never once complained. And the children have been wonderful, too."

The program in which Mrs. Augsburgberger took part has been offered for 10 years now by the Technical and Adult Education Division. In that time, there have been 423 graduates, 52 of them from A. O. Smith.

1966 Vehicle Values Far Below Potential

Although 98,985 autos were licensed in Madison county by the Illinois secretary of state's office during the 1966 year, only 74,377 of them were listed on personal property assessment books for tax purposes, according to latest available statistics of the Illinois Department of Revenue.

Mrs. Vanderver, 84, Dies; Ill Four Weeks

Mrs. Minnie Frances Vanderver, 84, of 1647 Chestnut street, died at 10:50 p.m. Friday at the Madison County Nursing Home, Edwardsville, she had been ill since June 16 and entered the nursing home last week.

A native of McLean county, Ky., Mrs. Vanderver moved to Granite City in 1927. She was a member of the First Assembly of God Church, 24th street and Grand avenue. Her husband, Fred Vanderver, died in 1935.

Surviving are two sons, William Vanderver of Granite City and Raleigh Vanderver of California; four daughters, Mrs. Lois Weeks, Mrs. Evelyn Valencia and Mrs. Marie Sharpley, all of the Quad-Cities, and Mrs. Geneva Harrison of LaMont, Calif.; one brother, McKinley Scott of Livermore, Ky.; a sister, Mrs. Sarah Cobb of St. Louis; 15 grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren and 4 d and 4 great-great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today at a local funeral home, with burial at Sunset Hill Cemetery. Other details are given in the obituary column.

The 24,518 autos omitted from the tax books that year is about 25% of the potential total and may have involved assessments amounting to $11,425,388; the average assessment of each auto assessed was $466.

Records show that the $466 average value also was one of the lowest such valuations placed on autos by any of the 102 counties of the state. Only four other counties had lower average auto assessments and one other was the same.

The secretary of state's office also licensed 20,667 trucks, buses and trailers in Madison county during 1966, but only 10,568, or 50%, were on the tax books in the county. The average assessment on these vehicles was $547. Thus, the untaxed vehicles in this category may have involved another $5,524,153 in assessments lost in 1966.

Mrs. Virdie Jordan, Former Resident, Dies

Mrs. Virdie Campbell Jordan, 78, Elco, Ill., a native of Breman, Ky., who resided in the Quad-Cities until moving to Elco 20 years ago, died at 6:06 a.m. Saturday at the Pleasant Rest Nursing Home, Collinsville. She had been ill for four months.

Mrs. Jordan was preceded in death by her husband, Dolphis, five years ago.

She is survived by two sons, Ralph Campbell of Sorento, Ill., and Homer Campbell of Madison; one daughter, Mrs. Robert (Norma) Wright of Granite City; a sister, Mrs. Thelma Lancaster of Madison; 11 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

She is at a Madison funeral home. Arrangements are given in the obituary column.

The Band; Ian & Sylvia This Week at Festival

Tonight and Thursday evening, the Mississippi River Festival will present two exciting examples of folk and progressive country music—The Band and Ian & Sylvia—at the southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University. Both concerts will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Music from The Band has been originating from "Big Pink" for the past two years. The group is one of the few in pop music circles today which is making it on their music instead of depending on volume or dazzling personality.

Far from the urban centers where musical movements are assumed to be made, Big Pink is a house located near the upstate New York community of Woodstock. The Band has been making music described as "like a fresh breeze blowing through the blasting decibels, shattering feedback and frenetic rhythms that have characterized pop fare since the psychedelic bandwagon took off."

Some of its music is represented in the group's first Capitol album, "Music from Big Pink." The Band includes Robbie Robertson, lead guitar; Richard Manuel, piano; Levon Helm, drums; Rick Danko, bass; and Garth Hudson, organ.

The five have been playing and singing together for nine years, from the days when they worked behind the Arkansas-born Canadian rock hero, Rimpin' Ronnie Hawkins.

Their Big Pink music has been classified as simple, complex, rich and spare, "the outgrowth of a country-rock heritage strengthened by the guttiness of soul and made fluid by the lyricism of rural folk."

Canadian-born, except drummer Levon Helm, who comes from Arkansas, members of The Band have similar histories—early exposure to music, rock bands in high school and from there, a group existence.

Explaining the band's lack of a name, Robertson said, "You know, for one thing, there aren't many bands around Woodstock and our friends and neighbors just call us the band and that's the way we think of ourselves. We just don't think a name means anything. It's gotten out of hand—the name thing. We don't want to get into a fixed bag like that."

Recalling their days as backup group for Hawkins, Robertson says, "There were only three kinds of rock when we went with Ronnie Hawkins—rhythm and blues, corny white rock and rockabilly. In three years, 'rockabilly' lost whatever allure it had for them and the band took off as the Levon and The Hawks, playing the back-town circuit of the southern states."

The Band's association with Bob Dylan came about after Atlantic City. "Dylan had heard about us, I guess," Robertson says, "and we'd heard about him, but we weren't into that kind of music. I didn't really know who he was or that he was that famous. I didn't think we could play with each other at all."

"Then we jammed together and a lot of things happened. We've had a great effect on each other. Dylan brought us into a whole new thing and I guess he got something from us."

The Band is not concerned with how its music will be labeled or discussion of its style. When asked how seriously they take their music, Robertson answered for the group, "Just seriously enough to satisfy us, enough so that we can smile at one another when we're through playing."

IAN & SYLVIA, Top Canadian Duo

area which has so strongly seized the public imagination—progressive country music.

Using a four-man back-up group, The Great Speckled Bird, they have ripened the music with which they have been familiar from childhood into what Claude Hall of Billboard recently called "a landmark in the development of country music." Ian Tyson was born in Victoria and reared on a farm in the far western province of British Columbia. From the day he was 17 years old, he wandered as a migrant worker, logger and rodeo performer, deepening his interest in music all the time.

Injured when he was 19, Ian took up the guitar and became more and more involved in the folk and country styles of Canada and the songs of Kentucky and Tennessee. He began biding his career as a folk singer while working as a commercial artist in Toronto. By the time he met Sylvia Fricker in 1966, he was one of Canada's most noted performers.

Sylvia Tyson received much of her early training from her mother, an organist and choir mistress, but she is for the most part a self-taught musician. Her highly individual style is the result of her learning folk music through books and private study without a barrage of outside influences. As Ian says, "She came to Toronto with a very strange and beautiful style of her own."

The Tysons have worked together professionally since 1960 and were married in 1964. They have one son, Clay, 2½, and live

100-Mile Marathon Requires 20½ Hours

Gus Schalkham, 19, of 19 Fontainebleau, successfully completed his personal goal of running 100 miles in less than 24 hours Thursday and Friday.

It took him 20 hours and 22 minutes to accomplish the feat—13 hours and 14 minutes of actual running and five rest periods totaling seven hours and eight minutes.

In Schalkham's first attempt on June 19-20, he covered 79.6 miles. At that time, heat, humidity and stomach cramps hindered him.

In the second try, rain cooled the air and he adhered to a stricter diet—only room-temperature fluids and a few bits of fruit.

The successful race against time, distance and fatigue began at 8 p.m. Thursday around the perimeter of Wilson Park.

The last major distance run began at 10:27 a.m. Friday. He commented, "My legs were starting to get tight, especially under the knees and around knees. I went 19 miles more and completed 94 miles."

"At 3:13 p.m., I began my last six miles. I was getting mighty stiff when I finished."

Helping Schalkham were SIUCSW Coach John Flamer and Mike Welsch, Larry Wallace, Robin Teague, Gerry Hall, Dave Redden, Carl McDowell, Tom Terrell, Bruce Perry and Chris Brandt.

Maxvill to Visit Summer Study Group

Dal Maxvill, Cardinal shortstop, will autograph baseball pictures at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday at St. Joseph's hall for a group of 27 youngsters attending six weeks of summer training in major control coordination, visual perception and auditory perception.

Called the SummerVie Project and sponsored by parents of those participating, the instruction is being given to children with learning difficulty who have a wide range in age and intelligence. Mrs. Vivian Dine is supervising the program, which utilizes a teaching staff of adults and students as numerous as the children.

Pro, Con of Transfer Stations for Refuse

(Fifth of a series)

Belleville city trucks average 3.88 tons of refuse per load; nominal capacity of the vehicle is 16 cubic yards.

Compaction-Type Truck
Many types of trucks are used at present in collecting and hauling refuse in the three counties. The type deserving greatest consideration is the 18- to 20-cubic-yard compaction-type truck.
As local ordinances become more stringently enforced, use of this type of vehicle should increase on domestic refuse collection routes.

Capacity, Time Factors
Because of the limited capacity and the time lost by the helpers riding to and from the disposal site, hauling economy may be effected by transferring the refuse from the collection vehicle to a transfer truck.

Transfer vehicles should have sufficient capacity to accommodate the loads of several of the collection vehicles, at least 40 cubic yards and preferably 60 to 80, equipped with compaction devices.

Since state laws forbid axle loads exceeding 16,000 pounds, the weight limit may govern rather than the volume limit.

Savings, Extra Costs
Only a driver is required to operate a transfer truck. Economy may be effected due to increased payloads and decreased labor, with a corresponding cut in hauling costs between origin and disposal points.

Avoidance of Nuisances
Balanced against such savings are the capital and operating costs of the facilities required for transfer of refuse from one vehicle to another, in addition to the capital, operation and maintenance costs of the transfer vehicles.

Truck-to-truck transfer stations usually consist of two-level structures to permit collection trucks to dump their loads directly into transport trucks or trailers.

Access Roadways
This would be enclosed within buildings to minimize potential nuisances from dust and blowing paper. Provision should be made to permit the stations to be kept clean and free from insects and rodents.

Unless storage of the refuse is provided, the transfer operations would have to take place only when the collection trucks arrive at the station, usually within a normal eight-hour working day.

Truck transfer station locations must be selected with care, the Homer & Shiffrin report notes.

To be most effective, they should be near the center of refuse production for the area to be served. Like all refuse processes, they should be in industrially-zoned areas or at least isolated, so constructed as to avoid adverse public reaction and to preclude unsanitary conditions.

Operation involves potential hazards requiring careful control. The stations should be manned, at least during the workday when refuse is received.

Provision should be made for security of operation, if it would be desirable to have scales for weighing incoming trucks. Refuse should not accumulate at the stations, lest insect and rodent nuisances be created.

Unusual compaction collection trucks handling normal mixed municipal refuse compact their loads to a density of 400 to 600 pounds per cubic yard.

Compaction-type trailers or trucks used as transfer vehicles, cannot be expected to achieve significantly greater densities, at least with the equipment commercially available at present.

For purposes of evaluation in the engineering report, truck transfer vehicles are assumed to be 40-cubic-yard compaction-type trailers with payloads of about 25,000 pounds, limited by a 22,000-pound gross load on tandem gear axles.

Hileman on DeMolay Tour through Europe

Charles E. Hileman, son of Assistant Fire Chief and Mrs. Charles E. Hileman, Jr. of 2330 Lynch Avenue, is in Europe for two weeks attending as part of the International DeMolay European Pilgrimage.

Almost 500 DeMolays, their families and advisors are on the two-week tour which will take them to eight different countries. A special plaque will be dedicated by the group in Paris, France, at the death site of Jacques DeMolay, the namesake of the Order of DeMolay. A special reception is being given the group by the President of the Municipal Council of Paris.

DeMolay is a character-building organization for young men 14-21 years of age. This year DeMolay is celebrating its 50th Anniversary and the European trip is one of the special activities planned for the commemoration.

Three charter planes departed from Kansas City, Chicago and Boston last week and landed in London. The group spent two days in London, sight-seeing and then moved on to Paris for the dedication ceremonies.

The two-week tour takes the group to England, France, Luxembourg, Germany, Switzerland, Lichtenstein, Austria and Italy.

Included as part of the trip highlights are a Rhine River Steamer trip, a Gondola ride in Venice, an excursion to Windsor Castle and a evening illuminated tour of Paris and Rome.

The group will depart from Rome on July 19 and 20 for their return trip home.

Parents' Aid Sought for V-M Head Start Program

Parental involvement in the 1969 Project Head Start pre-school training program in the Venice-Madison area is being emphasized this year by Robert N. Vickers, Venice assistant superintendent of schools and area Head Start director.

Vickers reported this week that parent groups are in the process of being organized at the Blair, Harris and Venice Head Start centers. He said that primary objectives of the committees are "to provide direction and aid to the individual centers' personnel and to promote continuance of similar pre-school training classes on a year-around or school-year basis."

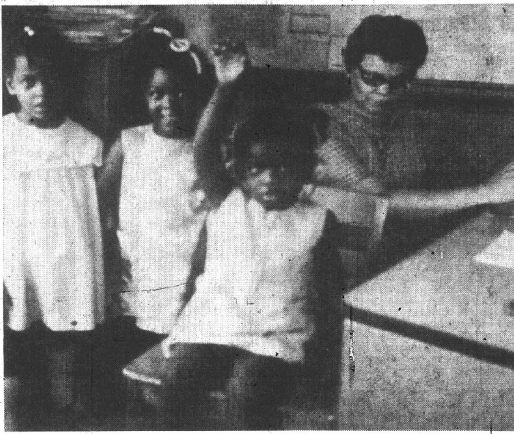

Head Start, a federally-sponsored pre-kindergarten project, is conducted on a nationwide scope only during the summer months. Proposals voiced by federal committees have sought to expand the program to conform to the regular school attendance year.

Should the government sponsored program be discontinued after this summer, local concerned parents are interested in organizing year-around pre-school classes, a project which may be possible through joint cooperation with the school districts involved, Vickers explained.

Broaden Participation

Parents with children under six years, also are being encouraged through activities of the parental committees to broaden Head Start participation to include all pre-schoolers, regardless of family income level, the director said.

At the present time, he noted, Head Start enrollment is open to only those children whose family earnings fall within low-income guidelines established by the Office of Economic Opportunity. The yearly income level, however, is graduated upward depending on the number of family members, Vickers said.

An advisory council composed of parent representatives from all three groups also is in its formative planning stages, Vickers said.

Sessions will be at Blair school center at 10 a.m. Monday, July 21; at 10 a.m. Tuesday, July 22 at Venice center; and at 10:30 a.m. Friday, July 23, at Harris center.

Greater insight into the problems confronting some of the children is achieved through home visits on the part of Head Start staff workers.

Counselors meet with parents and discuss any problems that are reflected in the child's behavior which may lead to a deterioration of the youngster's learning process.

Once a teacher is made aware of family circumstances, specific adjustments can be made to aid the child in his early education.

This year, 32 Head Start pupils are enrolled at both the Venice and Harris centers and 75 at Blair center—a total enrollment of 138. Additional youngsters could be accommodated in the program, Vickers said, adding that despite only three weeks remaining in the current program, new pre-schoolers may still be enrolled.

The total Head Start enrollment has decreased somewhat this summer, the director said. He theorized that a new regulation which requires parents of prospective pupils to furnish a notarized statement on income eligibility may have deterred some families from participation.

St. Elizabeth Hospital is handling all laboratory work for blood tests—one example of community resource cooperation cited by the director.

The 1969 Head Start summer program began June 16 and ends Aug. 1. Children attend 3½-hour sessions daily, Monday through Friday.

In addition to medical and dental examinations, the youngsters receive a balanced nutritious meal before leaving the centers each day. Those children residing in outlying areas of the community are taken to school by bus and returned home the same way.

Designed for Achievement

The pre-kindergarten preparation project primarily is designed to provide children with experiences and health care services that will better enhance success in early educational endeavors. Participation in the program, it is hoped, will promote greater achievement at higher grade levels and result in fewer school drop-outs when students are "unable to keep up."

The children are afforded experiences beyond the classroom walls, Vickers explained. This Friday, youngsters from Venice and Harris centers will visit Grant's Farm, while those who attend Blair will view the St. Louis riverfront, including the Gateway Arch, then tour the St. Louis Zoo. Local trips to the hospital and other service areas in the community also are planned.

Basic learning is involved in all the field excursions, Vickers said. Among other things, the children learn how to move about in a group, to follow instructions, to line up and enter and exit from a bus and to respond to others.

In many instances, these are new experiences and new learning situations for the five-year-old child, Vickers said.

Visits to Homes

Greater insight into the problems confronting some of the children is achieved through home visits on the part of Head Start staff workers.

GI Bill Summer Students Must Return C & A Card

Students attending college under the GI Bill this summer are reminded that they must secure their Certification of Attendance card to the Veterans Administration during the last full month of every enrollment period, including the summer session.

Failure to do so will cause payment to stop since VA computers are programmed to prepare checks only after Attendance cards are received. The VA also urges any students who did not return their Certification of Attendance card at the end of the spring semester to do so as soon as possible to insure renewed VA payments this summer or when he goes back to school in September.

While veterans attending college under the GI Bill must return their Certification of Attendance cards during the last full month of every enrollment period, veterans attending school below the college level must return their Attendance cards every month.

Veterans who have questions about their status or who intend to enroll for the first time this fall are urged to contact their nearest Veterans Administration office.

City's Budget Still Pending

Granite City council members are running farther behind schedule this year on preparations for the 1969-70 budget to cover the city's fiscal year which began May 1.

No mention was made of the budget during last week's session, and there is no council meeting tonight. The next regular meeting will be July 21 and a final regular meeting of the month will be July 28. State law requires a municipality to complete action on a new budget in the first quarter of the fiscal year, giving Granite City until July 31 to do the job.

In past years, the budget talks started in May with preliminary sessions in June continuing into July with final adoption by the last meeting in July.

In between, there usually have been four to six special sessions.

Mayor Partney submitted a proposed budget late in May totaling $2,812,148, up about $400,000 over the 1967-68 fiscal year. City disbursements last year amounted to $2,434,384.

It is anticipated the council Finance committee, headed by Alderman Moerlen will submit a council budget at the July 21 meeting.

Outline Clerks' Protests To New U. S. Postal Plan

The nation's postal clerks are organizing active opposition in Congress against the Administration's postal corporation bill "for what it fails to do," Kenneth Morton, president of Granite City Local 445 of the United Federation of Postal Clerks, AFL-CIO, reported here today.

Morton said three major objections are expressed to legislation that would convert the postal system into a government corporation.

First, Morton said, the bill "fails to give employees the right to strike even though we would no longer have civil service status."

No Wage Comparability
Secondly, the bill fails to give postal workers unilateral access to binding arbitration and, third, it fails to establish true wage comparability with private industry prior to the transfer of employees into the corporate structure, Morton noted.

An additional reason for protesting the bill in its present form is that "it would definitely make employees public scapegoats by tying postal rates to every future salary increase," Morton said.

"In other words," Morton added, "postal employees would be the only large group of federal workers whose wages and fringe benefits would depend on the corporation's ability to pay, either at the level of current rates, which is doubtful, or by forcing the public to pay increased fees for mail service."

Wages Far Behind
Morton charged that "the Postmaster-General himself has failed to give any consideration to the fact that even with the meager 4.1% pay increase effective in mid-July, postal clerks are still more than $300 a year behind their counterparts in the private sector as of June 1968, to say nothing of the astronomical rise in living costs during the 13 months since that time."

He emphasized that postal employees "do recognize the need for postal reform" and are supporting the Postal Reform Act (H.R. 4) proposed by Cong. Thaddeus J. Dulski (D-N. Y.), chairman of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

Morton said even this bill needs to be amended, however, to establish statutory labor-management procedures and true collective bargaining for postal workers in place of the very limited, management-weighted bargaining presently in effect through a Presidential Executive Order.

Set Hearings on Air Standards

Two public hearings on proposed ambient air quality standards and on proposed regulations for exemption of political subdivisions from the Illinois Air Pollution Control Act have been set by the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board, it was announced today.

One of the hearings, to be held in two sections, will be conducted Aug. 12 in the Missouri room of the University Center at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus. The other is to be held Aug. 13 in the Illinois State Building at Chicago.

At both hearings, 10 a.m. sessions will be conducted to hear testimony relative to air quality standards for the Illinois portions of the Chicago and St. Louis Metropolitan Interstate Air Quality Control Regions.

Further hearings then will be held at 2 p.m. on the proposed regulations for political subdivision exemption under which some agencies would be permitted to enforce clean air standards in their own subdivisions.

Persons wishing to be heard at any of the sessions have been asked to address such requests to C. W. Klassen, technical secretary of the state pollution board.

GC Meter Revenue Drops During First Six Months

Granite City parking meter income during June fell off sharply from that of the previous month, totaling only $3302 in fine and fee collections, according to a report of City Comptroller Robert Stevens.

The June revenue was a decrease of $981 below the total of $4283 received by the city during May, with a bulk of the decrease shown in fine collections.

June parking meter revenue included $2656 in fees, compared to $3000 received in May, but fines collected during June amounted to $652, or $631 less than the $1283 in fines collected during May, the report showed.

June parking meter operations increased to $22,817 the total income in meter time and fees during the six months of this year, a reduction of $2444 below the $24,861 in meter income for the same period of last year.

Most Is in Fees
Of this amount, $17,420 represents fee collections and $5397 is in fine payments.

Total revenue from both fee and fine collections has been consistently below that of 1968 for all but one of the six months of the year thus far. The exception was in May when total collections this year amounted to $4283, slightly above the May

Auto License Data For National Guard

Members of the Illinois National Guard and Naval Militia who purchase cars between now and Dec. 1 will have to pay the same half-year license fees as persons who are not members of either of those organizations, Secretary of State Paul Powell pointed out today.

In future years, they will have to pay the same full annual fees as other motor vehicle owners.

The recent session of the General Assembly enacted legislation, which was not supported by Powell, repealing the $2 registration fee previously offered to National Guard and Naval Militia members.

Most legislation changing license fee structures becomes effective at the start of the next licensing period, but this measure became effective July 1 and consequently applies to any purchases between now and Dec. 1.

The present fee schedule of $8, $12, $18 and $24 depending upon horsepower remains in effect until Dec. 1, meaning that the fees to be paid during that period would be $4, $6, $9 and $12 respectively.

Social Security Numbers Replace Serial Numbers

As of this month, the familiar military service number used to identify almost four generations of American servicemen will become obsolete.

Now the social security account number replaces the service number for all military personnel, whether active, retired or reserve members. No additional numbers now are being issued. New inductees and enlistees now are identified by their social security numbers only.

The social security number has no prefix or suffix. It will no longer indicate grade, sex, method of entry into service or active or reserve status. It will be the single identifying number used by the U. S. Government.

The first number was issued Feb. 26, 1918. M/Sgt. Arthur B. Kean was the recipient of ASN 1. Officers did not receive service numbers until June 1921 and were distinguished by the prefix "O.". The number "O-1" went to the late Gen. John J. Pershing, then serving as Army Chief of Staff.

Cabbage Patch Here With 7-Pound Heads

Harry Holt, 70, who operated a farm in Tennessee before moving to Granite City, is proudly displaying the products of his garden at his home, 2816 Palmer avenue.

The average weight of 10 heads of cabbage is close to seven pounds—the largest he has ever grown.

Holt, who retired about six years ago from National Lead Co., has been gardening for six years, and about two years ago became concerned with the results. He even went to the Farm Bureau at Edwardsville for a test of the soil, but the tests showed it to be in proper condition.

This year he added no special fertilizer, but did use an insect spray and termed the results to be fantastic.

Holt raised the cabbages from 12 hybrid plants which he purchased.

He recalled that two years ago he raised a 2½-pound tomato. "My tomatoes are doing exceptionally well this year, too," he added.

Marion McGlawn, owner, and Terry D. Jones, purchaser and occupant of a mobile home, for a special use permit to place a mobile home in an R-3 one-family residence district in Chouteau township.

Granted were the petitions of: Dorothy and Winfred Edwards, owners, and Joe Parisi, purchaser, to rezone a tract of land from agricultural to B-3 highway business district with a special use permit for an amusement area in Namooki township.

William Douglas for a special use permit to place a mobile home in an agricultural district in Namooki township for the duration of the lifetime of his father.

Boats Avoiding Quincy To Grafton on River

Pleasure boaters were asked late last week by the Illinois Department of Conservation to avoid the Mississippi river from Quincy to Grafton. Ordinarily, this is a high priority boating area but the river stage there is higher now than earlier this spring, when the flood crest was the third highest in history.

Ken Gruenewald, boating supervisor for the department, asked pleasure boaters to stay away from this portion of the river until the water recedes. Boat wakes may drive debris into the walls of flooded homes, break windows, crack plaster and cause other structural damage, he said.

Boaters are liable for damage caused by their wakes and may be fined up to $200 for violating this federal regulation. Also, they may be imprisoned for a year.

Conservation officers are on duty to enforce boating regulations and to insure that boaters do not cause damage to private property. "Residents of a flooded area have enough problems without having their troubles compounded by thoughtless pleasure boaters," Gruenewald concluded.

Slag Burns Workman

Bauregard Powell, 48, East St. Louis, an employee of General Steel Industries, sustained first- and second-degree burns to the left thigh, abdomen and chest area when a test gun came loose, spraying him with hot slag. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6:10 a.m. Saturday and was released.

Patrolman Injured

Richard Jackson, 22, an officer in the Brooklyn police department, had six sutures taken in the left hand at 3 a.m. Saturday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He incurred the injury from a knife while attempting to break up a fight in Brooklyn.

MEMORIAL FUND of the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council, by Dr. and Mrs. Harry Epstein.

Giff Record of Wm. Epstein

Dr. Harry Epstein, Granite City optometrist, has presented a check for $100 to be added to the William H. Epstein Fund, created in memory of Dr. and Mrs. Epstein's late son, one of the first cub scouts in this area.

After his participation in cub scouting, Billy Epstein was a member of Boy Scout Troop Five, of which his father served as troop committee chairman and Rollin Henn as scoutmaster.

Henn, now president of the Cahokia Mound Council of the Boy Scouts of America, accepted the check from the local family on behalf of the council. In reviewing the late youngster's scouting record, Henn noted that Star Scout Epstein was a member of the Order of the Arrow, honor scout society for master campers, and that he served as bugler at Camp Rankin, former summer campsite of the council.

Dr. Epstein is active in the Uniwah (Quad-City) district of the Cahokia Mound Council and in 1965 received from the council the national Silver Beaver award, highest recognition of service to scouting that can be given at the council level.

Other gifts to the memorial fund are being accepted. It is to be used to further the scouting movement.

The $100 gift represented part of the stamp collection of the late scout.

Transportation, Housing, Sewer Studies Authorized

Participation in four studies of part of Missouri-Illinois metropolitan area planning was authorized Thursday night by the executive committee of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, meeting at the Simpac office in Collinsville.

Contracts with the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development were authorized for a $27,500 analysis of sewer and water needs and a $20,000 study of public and private housing programs affecting Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

Also approved were two Madison-St. Clair counties studies, a $62,000 survey to update land use and subdivision ordinances and an $81,000 study of transportation.

Financing is on a basis of two-thirds from the federal government and one-third from the annual appropriation of the Southwestern Commission. For the transportation study, originally discussed 1 1/2 years ago, county governments are providing 50% of the Simpac portion.

Related to Sewer Grants
In authorizing expenditure of $41,000 for the three new undertakings, the executive committee noted the favorable impact on this region. As an example, launching of the sewer and water study prior to October will enable government agencies in this area to remain eligible to seek matching federal funds for installation of sewer lines.

Continued qualification for sewer funds, such as the $1,500,000 grant obtained by Granite City in 1967, is crucial in view of the many still unmet

Hula Hoop 'All-City' Finals Today at Rink

The public is invited to view the "All City Hula Hoop Championships," to be conducted at the Wilson Park rink pavilion starting at 7:30 p.m. today, in which 44 youngsters will compete for city championship honors.

The youthful competitors, ranging in age from eight to 12 years, are participants in the Granite City park district's summer recreational program. Tonight's finalists will represent 11 playground centers throughout the community, where elimination contests took place the past week.

Mrs. Helen Bjorkman, recreational supervisor, said that competition would be divided by age groups, with winners being selected in each age category. Plans currently are being made for the "All City" champions to compete in state contests, scheduled later this summer.

DeMolays, Mothers Club To Meet on Tuesday

The first meeting of the month for James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Masonic Temple. The July 1 meeting was cancelled because of the international conference in Kansas City.

At tomorrow's meeting, final plans will be made for the 41st annual state DeMolay convocation to be held Aug. 12-17 at Western Illinois University, Macomb, and reports will be given on the international conference. The DeMolay Mother's Club also will meet tomorrow evening.

ISU to Close Junior College Admissions

Illinois State University at Normal announced today that it will close admissions of all junior college transfer students for the 1969 fall semester effective 5 p.m. Friday, July 18.

Prior to that deadline the university will accept applications from junior college transfers with 55 or more hours of academic credit. Dean of Admissions and Records Wilbur R. Venable noted that acceptance of applications from transfer students with fewer than 55 hours and those from four year institutions has been suspended for some time.

Dean Venable explained that the action is necessary for Illinois State to remain within its budgeted enrollment projection of 14,000 students this coming September. As of June 30, a total of 926 transfer applications had been approved with 180 more in process for a total of 1116.

It is estimated that Illinois State will have 4553 new students, including transfers, this fall. Through June 30, 4313 new students had been approved.

The admissions dean emphasized that ISU will continue to accept new graduate students and former students applying for readmission.

Traffic Signal Change

Lanzo Ray, 2411 Illinois avenue, was ticketed on a traffic signal violation charge at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at 27th street and Madison avenue.

LIST WITH COCHRANE "ITS SOLD"

Marks First Year as SIU-SW Chancellor

John S. Rendleman has been associated with Southern Illinois University for 19 years and with its Southwestern campus since it was built, but this month will mark his first year of exposure to life as chancellor of a university campus.

Rendleman, who came to the post after serving as SIU's vice-president for business affairs, says the past year has been the most exciting one yet with SIU.

The chancellor is the type of man that likes progress and his enthusiasm for developments of the past year hints of things accomplished. He lists selection of a dean for the proposed SIU School of Dental Medicine as the biggest highlight of the year he has served as head of the Southwestern campus.

There were many other developments, however, for which he expresses enthusiasm equally as warm. Among last year's highlights, he says, were the innovative spirit of the campus and the sustained welcome he has received by both students and faculty.

Lists Year's Highlights

Still others include:

The planning of doctoral programs.

The continuation of involvement in East St. Louis and the on-going classes at Alton offered by SIU.

Formation of the Mississippi River Festival.

Completion of the General Offices Building.

But for the upcoming academic year, just begun, the on-going campus administrator hopes for more—in academic programs, faculty recruitment, innovative study and additions in buildings.

Rendleman said he hopes to see:

Further advancement toward doctoral programs which are innovative and allow students opportunities to work in the world the way it is, avoiding research which is non-essential.

Increased activity in the dental school area, providing again a unique approach to dental medicine. Hopefully all School of Dental Medicine facets will be meshed together to allow student enrollment for the fall of 1970 in temporary facilities on the Alton campus. "If we can't meet that timetable, which is pretty stiff, we'll be pushing for the fall of 1971," Rendleman says.

Need More Buildings

He hopes to see massive building efforts this year to permit quality education for the projected increases in enrollment.

"We're really quite a university," Dr. Rendleman said. "It is nearly unheard of for an university like SIU-SW to telescope as we have in such a short period of time. While we are not quite ready to offer the doctoral degree, we will be in the next year or two."

"Planning and programming are underway. We need three things—students who are qualified and wish such programs, faculty who are experienced in doctoral programs and library resources to support such advanced study," Rendleman added.

"We already have the first two and are working to increase the library holdings," the chancellor said.

Dr. Rendleman wants SIU-SW to be the most exciting place in higher education in the next decade. He is basing his hope on the student population and faculty makeup and has called for increased building planning to keep up with an expected 12,000 students this fall.

As for the proposed school of Dental Medicine, Dr. Rendleman pointed out that SIU-SW felt it could not accept the lengthy timetable of other schools in gearing for the first dental students.

We have a void to fill, in preparing people for the field of dental medicine and every effort is being made to start classes next fall," he said. "This may not be possible considering all the facets of the program, but we will race against time to prepare for this school."

Another new program with Rendleman's strong endorsement is the Mississippi River Festival which features the St. Louis Symphony and a series of popular artists in concerts on the SIU-SW campus.

The definition of a university is an institution which provides educational, cultural and social functions, not just for a segment of the population, but for the largest involvement of the community of people which we serve in this area," he said.

Secretaries Hear Talk on C. of C.

An insight into the organization and functions of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce by Howard W. Colquitt, Chamber manager, highlighted the program of the Tri-Cities Chamber, National Secretaries Association, at a meeting Thursday evening at the Rose Bowl.

The Chamber was defined by Colquitt as a "private organization composed of business and professional persons and individuals who are interested in making the area in which they live and do business a better place."

The Chamber of Commerce, he added is composed of four operating divisions headed by vice-presidents under the direction of an elected president. The divisions are business development, community improvement, organization and public affairs.

HOWARD W. COLQUITT
Guest Speaker

Colquitt discussed plans being made for the improvement of the local area. One project includes a Downtown Renewal project set up by the Community Improvement Division to review recommendations for improving the downtown business area. Another is a year round beautification project for Granite City, Madison and Venice being undertaken by the recently established Women's Division.

To illustrate the activity of the Chamber, the speaker announced that last year more than 800 people were involved by the organization in making the local area a better place to live.

The regular business meeting of the secretaries followed the program with Mrs. Bettie Davis, president, in charge.

The 1969-70 budget was presented and approved and announcement was made of a Leadership Clinic to be held Sept. 13 in LaSalle, Ill. The members were also encouraged to attend the District Conference in Milwaukee, Wisc., Oct. 24.

The next board meeting will be held July 21 in the home of Mrs. Davis, and a business meeting is set for Aug. 7 at 6 p.m. at the Rose Bowl. Interested persons are invited. They may call Mrs. Peggy Moore, 878-8627 or Mrs. Sally Graczy, 931-3290.

MRS. JAMES R. READER, the former Miss Cheryl Sue Gilmore, whose wedding was Saturday evening at St. John Lutheran Church.

Reader-Gilmore Nuptials At St. John Lutheran Church

Miss Cheryl Sue Gilmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver A. Gilmore, 2749 Roosevelt street, became the bride of James Richard Reader, a son of Mrs. Andrew Bauza, 2412 Edison avenue, and Richard Reader of Alton, Saturday night at St. John Lutheran Church.

Rev. Samuel Boda officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony before an altar banked with white summer flowers and greenery.

Albert Froemling, organist, accompanied Mrs. Diane Gebhardt, vocalist, as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Victorian style gown featuring a high neckline and a bodice of Venice lace which was repeated on the cuffs of the full Juliet sleeves. A full skirt and floor-length train, edged with miniature daisies, was of white organza.

A headpiece of pearls trimmed with tiny seed pearls secured a shoulder length veil of filmy illusion. Her bridal bouquet was an effulgent cascade of white roses and pink sweetheart roses centered with a detachable corsage.

Mrs. Janet Ebersold, a sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Miss Kathy Gilmore, the bride's sister, Miss Patricia Reader, another sister of the groom, and Miss Cathy Jung were bridesmaids.

They wore identical gowns of pink chiffon fashioned with sheath skirts and floating panels.

Juanita Rebekah Lodge 477 Meets

Juanita Rebekah Lodge 477 held a meeting Thursday evening at the American Legion Hall.

Mrs. Lola Price, noble grand, was in charge and the charter was draped for a recently deceased member.

The group discussed several projects to be held during the summer, and refreshments were served to 30 members.

Miss Sharon Vavra Is Bride of David Cerny

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Sharon Kay Vavra and David Allan Cerny Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Miss Vavra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Vavra, 1807 Fifth street, Madison. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cerny, reside at 70 Brookfield drive, Caseyville.

Rev. Sylvester Micek officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Andrew Bridick, organist, accompanied Mrs. William Tutka as she sang "Ave Maria."

Mr. Vavra gave his daughter in marriage. She was lovely in an ivory peau de sole floor-length gown. The Empire bodice was re-embroidered imported Alencon lace. The skirt had motifs of lace and there were short sleeves of the same lace. A train of peau de sole fell from the shoulders of the gown.

A wrist-length veil of silk illusion was secured by a cluster of ivory petals and tiny seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of pink and white pom poms with violets and greenery.

Miss Carole Wondra was honor maid. Miss Diane Hinton of Danville, Ill., and Miss Janet Cerny and Miss Helen Cerny, sisters of the groom, were bridesmaids.

They were dressed in pink linen fashioned in an "A" line, with tiny pink and white rosebuds at the neck, bodice and hemline.

Headpieces of pink organza bows trimmed with tiny tiaras of lace completed their attire. They carried nosegays of violets and greenery.

Upon their return the newlyweds will reside in Collinsville.

Mr. Cerny is a graduate of Assumption high school and is attending Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus, majoring in chemistry. He is employed at Granite City Steel Co. in the Department of Metallurgy and Inspection.

A reception was held at the American Legion hall in Venice Saturday evening.

The young couple has planned a wedding trip to Miami Beach, Fla.

Upon their return the newlyweds will reside in Collinsville.

DAMMOUTH-ROBINS NUPTIALS AT HOME

Glenda Robins, 2449 Center street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Nevels, 711 North 28th place, was married Friday evening at 7 o'clock to William Dammouth of Madison.

The couple was married in the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Trotts, 833 Greenwood avenue, Madison. Ferns and vases of spring flowers adorned the home.

Rev. Avery Morris, pastor of the Dupo Baptist Church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride chose a knit dress of off-white with a matching hat and accessories. She carried a cascade of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Nina Cookson, a sister of the bride, and Jack Smith were the attendants.

Mrs. Cookson wore an orange knit dress, using orange accessories, and wore a corsage of yellow carnations.

A reception followed at the Jaxco hall in Granite City, with approximately 60 friends and relatives attending. A buffet lunch was served.

Upon returning from a honeymoon trip, they will reside at 2449 Center street.

Mrs. Dammouth is employed at a bank in St. Louis and Mr. Dammouth is employed at a trucking firm in St. Louis.

Miss Elaine Price, also formerly gowned Mrs. Diana Jackson, selected by B&PW members as "Miss Congeniality of 1968-69," will supervise guest registration.

Mrs. Lily Chaboude, B&PW first vice-president, and Mrs. Pauline Weir, second vice-president, are heading the reception arrangements committee. Other local club members serving on the committee include Mrs. Lily Marzull, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Mary Batson, Mrs. Ruby Parker, Mrs. Bonnie Lazenby, Mrs. Marion Rose Lambert and Mrs. Verna Lengyel.

"Golden anniversary" observances are taking place this week in thousands of communities across the nation as members honor the B&PW founders and rededicate themselves to the objectives and standards of the professional women's federation.

The National Federation of Business and a Professional Women's Clubs will hold its 50th annual convention July 20-25 at its birthplace, St. Louis.

Several women who helped organize the federation at its initial convention are expected to return to the city for the five-day series of meetings and programs.

Charter Members to Mark BPW 50th Year

OPPOSES BILL RELATED TO FEDERAL "CON CEN"

To the Editor:
Your statement in an editorial July 3 needs clarification:
"We are at a loss to understand the consternation among some people over the possibility of a national convention."

The dubious authority to call such a convention is contained in S. 2307 introduced by Senator Ervin and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. Hearings have been held in the Senate but authorities believe that little will be done in the House.

Because this is reckless and futile legislation, one should be thoroughly familiar with Article V of the United States Constitution, which states that amendments may be passed through the use of two different methods.

First, Congress may submit amendments to the states for ratification by a two-thirds majority in the House. Three-fourths of the states must ratify before the amendment becomes law. This is the procedure used in the ratification of all the amendments made so far.

Second, two-thirds of the states may petition Congress for a constitutional convention. At present, only one state needs to pass the constitutional convention petition. Congress would then be required to call a convention to consider the petition.

Should this happen, the states would follow the same procedure of ratification as if amendments had originated in Congress.

Legislatures have decided—through careless and "whooping-through" measures—that the authority in Article V gives them the power to vote "aye" or "nay" on proposals suggested by its members. This is a completely different procedure and the courts on measures brought forth by these members.

Such action could put all citizens at the discretion or mercy of state legislatures.

Section 3(b) of S. 2307 illustrates this point. Questions concerning the state legislative procedure, and the validity of the adoption of the petition, are completely divorced from the reaction of the states.

S. 2307 is the brainchild of Senator Dirksen and Senator Ervin. The former is unhappy because he does not like the one-man, one-vote decision of the U. S. Supreme Court.

It is interesting to mention here that Sen. Dirksen seeks here the constitutional convention to alter the powers of the electors to choose the president.

Sections 3(b) and 3(c) eliminate the power of governors to have any voice in the decision made by the legislatures in applying for a constitutional convention or in the ratification of any proposals coming from the convention.

Most governors are close to the people, and their presence in the making of a convention or preventing them from being responsible to all the people of their states.

The principle of equal representation for all states is necessary if any democratic procedure is to be followed.

What the backers of S. 2307 probably 1/2 of 1% of its gross national product—while benefiting greatly from the U. S. military presence in Asia.

It was 25 years after the moral-boasting air raid in world war II and the changes found were more than merely the rebuilding of a war-ravaged country.

One of the editors linked the island off the coast of Asia to the leadership role once held by Great Britain from its island domain off the coast of Europe.

But instead of "the next Britain," Japan may well be "the next United States," rivaling our gross national production by the turn of the century.

From a $75 billion GNP in 1964, Japan rose to $140 billion last year, still well below our $400 billion but passing Great Britain, France and finally West Germany to trail only the U. S. and Russia.

As former Ambassador Edwin Reischauer noted this year after being replaced by Armin Meyer as U. S. envoy to Japan, "A nation doesn't have to be western to be successful. With a thin veneer of the West, the Japanese have found ways to handle problems, including urban overcrowding, which we might profitably study."

What is it about the Japanese that has helped them succeed? They have the advantage of a temperate climate, much like our own. Without the need for asbestos to escape the heat, they work hard and creatively in playing both inventiveness and motivation with a real desire to improve.

Any Lack of Interest in Lake Park Among Bureaucrats Can Be Remedied by Governor

Reports that some employees of the Illinois Department of Conservation are not fully behind development of Horseshoe Lake as a state park are not particularly new. We recall statements and attitudes in past years indicating that at least a few staff members in the department rated other park proposals as deserving higher priority.

If the problem still remains, it surely can be dealt with by Governor Ogilvie, whom we hope and trust will sign the 1969 Horseshoe Lake park legislation and make sure that the $2 million appropriation is fully funded.

The function of state departments is to wholeheartedly implement the decisions made by the people of Illinois through their elected legislators and executives.

Our state's bureaucrats have no legitimate right to seek to sabotage a project merely because they may have no interest in the recreational needs of the largest concentration of population outside of Chicago.

While we are on the subject, there seems to be some misunderstanding of the $2 million senators and representatives voted to make available for initial acquisition of the lakebed and adjacent property.

Some Quad-Cityans plagued with rains and flooding last week wondered out loud why so much money could be allocated for a park when one of their most basic needs, drainage, had not yet been solved.

We have no doubt at all that the state will be scrupulous in its expenditures, avoiding excessive property prices just as it does when obtaining a highway right-of-way.

A full dollar's value will be sought for each dollar disbursed. Sidetracking lake park development would not help anybody's drainage problem. In fact, a park delay could slow drainage relief, since its development unquestionably will be coordinated with and will be helpful to the state's stormwater and flood control efforts in this region.

alature of Illinois and gave the more populous areas equitable representation in accordance with the number of people in the various districts.

Since some of the states have not finished this procedure, it is probable that Congress will disregard petitions from states that have not done so.

Another feature of S. 2307, the Constitution states that "every order, resolution or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and the House of Representatives may be necessary, except on the question of adjournment, shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be re-passed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the limitations prescribed in the various districts.

To circumvent this constitutional provision, the framers of S. 2307 have found an old decision of the Supreme Court handed down in 1796 in a case of Hollingsworth vs. Virginia, whereby the court stated that an amendment originating in Congress "and passed by the same two-thirds as is needed to override a veto, need not be to the President."

But constitutional authorities are of the opinion that this decision is not binding on the courts today.

It is hoped that you are now aware of some of the dangers inherent in S. 2307, a piece of spiteful legislation prompted by revengeful legislators seeking personal advantages—with absolute disregard of democratic processes.

We might agree that certain changes should be made in our country. But our brilliant document, the Constitution of the United States, which has made our land what it is today—providing political stability, liberties and freedoms unknown in many parts of the world—is not to be tampered with.

Let's hope that S. 2307 dies a natural death and that future generations will be able to look back with pride at the great constitution with its bill of rights and try to live up to the sacrifices made by its founders.

We have developed the greatest democratic form of government ever found anywhere. The present U. S. Constitution provides for adequate progressive change. Let's let it be.

To the Editor:

The Library Services and Construction Act of 1958 (PL 85-611) has enabled the state libraries, both public and school libraries, to upgrade the services provided by our libraries by supplying audio-visual aids, special print books (large type), win Reischauer noted this year after being replaced by Armin Meyer as U. S. envoy to Japan, "A nation doesn't have to be western to be successful. With a thin veneer of the West, the Japanese have found ways to handle problems, including urban overcrowding, which we might profitably study."

What is it about the Japanese that has helped them succeed? They have the advantage of a temperate climate, much like our own. Without the need for asbestos to escape the heat, they work hard and creatively in playing both inventiveness and motivation with a real desire to improve.

Their business districts are filled with the small but efficient Japanese auto, buzzing about and forcing pedestrians to scurry from their paths much like the traffic in New York and London.

The crowds are large and happy and seem prosperous, although Japan is still only 19th in the world in per capita income.

Potential clouds on the horizon for "the rising sun" are a worsening labor shortage, consumer price rises and the need for more attention to such needs as water systems, sewage disposal facilities and port development. Farms and small businesses have not made as much progress as the big industries.

Salvation Army Proposal Would Remove Its Program from Areas Where Need Is Greatest

Reports that the Salvation Army is considering moving from 19th street to the Nameoki area raise the question of whether it could carry out its mission as effectively in an area already well served by churches, the Granite City park district, Junior Achievement and other centers.

It has been traditional for the Salvation Army to locate in the neighborhoods most in need of its services. It is important that there be easy access to its facilities for both young and old.

There are areas in the Quad-Cities where the need for a Salvation Army center is much greater than at the site under consideration, where to a degree it might be competing with and duplicating services currently provided by others.

The tasks the Salvation Army performs at present must not be abandoned or jeopardized.

Citizen Interest Still the Key to Progress

A talk last week by a local businessman was unusual in the breadth of its attempt to evaluate community needs. We do not agree with all the points, but it was refreshing to see the spotlight placed where the action really is—citizen interest and effort.

As he said, personal involvement can lead to achievement far beyond what an individual may have thought he could accomplish. More participation and active citizenship is a necessity here this year and in future years.

In directing the blame to himself and others, he may have dealt too lightly with the political committee structure at the township, county and state levels and its understandable but often harmful penchant for power over patronage, contracts and purchases.

If party leaders everywhere get worrying so much about whether they or someone else was going to sit in the driver's seat, many of the troubles cited would not exist.

It is not surprising that municipal boards and commissions that frustrate natural growth and the extension of public services, precinct worker interference in school elections and policies, insufficient new housing to attract low, middle and high-income families, inadequate enforcement of building codes, slow-moving property rehabilitation and renewal, and toleration of waste that boosts taxes while failing to satisfy those being served.

We single out no specific officials but the political process itself because its tacticians often influence or directly fill the public offices related to these fields; because they are the "pros" who have the ability and take the time to talk regularly with constituents, and thus can discourage or encourage citizens to carry out their duties in our democracy; and because their expertise and tight grip can squeeze out responsible labor and business leadership which otherwise might develop and shoulder a bigger role in community life.

This view does not free anyone of the burden of making our civilization function, because each of us helps determine by his action or inaction the quality of our environment and the way of life. All feel the effects if we could all truly become "involved," we would obtain the meaningful kind of improvements called for last week.

GC Lacks Policy of Extending Facilities

(Granite City Long-Range Plan)

An example of the effect of north is less limited, and it is foreseeable that Granite City history is the 1880 annexation of Nameoki, which added approximately 400 people to the city.

The increase due to the annexation of Nameoki accounted for approximately one-third of the total population increase between 1880 and 1960. The importance of annexation in stimulating population growth should not be underestimated.

Future areas of annexation left open to the city are limited mainly to the north, east and southeast. Annexation to the east may soon be restricted by the village of Pontoon Beach, leaving only filling-in between the two corporate limits.

Expansion of the city to the north is less limited, and it is foreseeable that Granite City could annex to the north Interstate 270. Annexation to the southeast is also limited but could be carried out along Highway 162 and State Aid Route 35.

The expansion of the city is possible and in some instances probable, but Granite City should decide—and direct effort to the direction it wishes to grow.

The municipality also should adopt a vigorous annexation policy and encourage expansion in that direction with the extension of utilities, streets and other public facilities.

Next: Industrial and residential development.

Local saloons are no more, and most have become soft drink parlors. Nothing stronger than Bevo, either in bottles or drawn out of a keg, is passed across the bar.

For a few days this month it was reported that one could get the old genuine suet at several places, and that "red eye" could be obtained if one had the price. But the reported presence of several revenue agents has placed on a lid that apparently cannot be pried loose.

Proprietors are expressing hope that the ban will soon be lifted; nearly all of them remain open on Sundays now, since there is nothing to prohibit them from doing so.

Club members held a pot luck supper and outing at Wilson Park. Present were Mesdames Thelma McIlroy, Georgia Padgett, Dorothy June Kingsbury, Rhoda Wilson and Mary Wood, Miss Nan Shone and a guest, Mrs. Harriet Wilson.

Noting the retirement of E. E. Campbell, veteran newspaper publisher, Granite City Rotarians presented him with an honorary membership for "meritorious service in the furtherance of Rotary ideals." Guests at the weekly luncheon were two members in the armed forces, Maj. Leo Coleman and Pvt. David Linder.

services to the blind and handicapped, special programs to the culturally-deprived, and construction aid to much needed facilities.

The library is the storehouse of our knowledge—the basis of our culture.

Public tax-supported library systems are, ideally, the first and tragically, in some cases, the last source of reference and aid in self-improvement to our many millions of deprived Americans.

In the nature of economy, the Budget Bureau of the United States has recommended that enabling appropriations for this bill be cut from the 1969 fiscal year of $234,884,000 to a 1970 fiscal year total of $469,200,000.

This, in a country that can spend $225,000 to kill one Viet Cong.

In 1969, Congress appropriated approximately $1.17 per capita for educational aids and Library Services. The administration has recommended that for 1970, an appropriation of $2.33—yes, twenty-three cents per capita—is all we can afford.

Anyone truly interested in the direction of our national improvement of values, please write your Congressman and Senators within the next week, and ask that Public Law 89-511 appropriations be returned to full authority.

This is an investment in our own people, for the benefit and betterment of our own country.

Japanese Economy Rising Faster Than Any Other Industrialized Nation; Britain, Germany Surpassed and U. S., Russia May Be Challenged Next

By WILLIAM F. WINTER

Least one's reminiscences about an Asian study tour go on forever, it is necessary to weed out some of the possible topics and concentrate on essentials.

A "must" subject is the upsurge by Japan, which is likely to be one of the chief new making areas during the final third of this century. Its steelmaking already has had a significant impact on the Quad-Cities.

Only a century since it emerged from isolation, a "quarter-century" since its economy was ruined by defeat in war, and 15 years since it was occupied, Japan in 1968 launched $572,870 tons of shipping, 20 times that of the U. S. and fully half of all shipping tonnage in the world.

It has become the top producer of radio sets, second largest manufacturer of TV sets and autos and third biggest maker of steel products.

While America was seeing its trade surplus plummet from $4 billion in 1967 to $720 million the following year, Japan enjoyed an expansion to $242 million.

Its annual economic growth rate of 10% to 12%, fastest of any industrialized nation, reflects success in finding adequate markets and sources of raw materials.

To renunciation of violence enables it to spend little on military and naval forces—probably 1/2 of 1% of its gross national product—while benefiting greatly from the U. S. military presence in Asia.

Japan exports to the U. S. market and Japan's war-related exports to Far East nations jointly account for 48% of all its exports.

There undoubtedly is an element of unfairness in this, with the U. S. bearing a huge burden of defense spending and foreign aid and Japan getting what could be viewed as a "free ride."

However, it does permit $5,000 U. S. service men, a number of bases in its crowded nation, and it does constitute a true democracy of a center of private enterprise in a part of the world where such an example may prove to be of great value.

Another point of possible unfairness is Japanese steelmaking, which was wiped out by U. S. Bombers in the 1940s. With American financing much of the rebuilding, the leaders around up with newer, more modern plants with less capital debt than the winners.

The invasion of the steel market here and elsewhere has been so successful that voluntary quotas have been adopted by Japan producers in the hope of forestalling restrictive action by the U. S. Congress.

Scenes from the movie "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo" flashed through the thoughts of some of the weekly newspaper editors as their plane approached the Japanese capital in May.

It was 25 years after the moral-boasting air raid in world war II and the changes found were more than merely the rebuilding of a war-ravaged country.

One of the editors linked the island off the coast of Asia to the leadership role once held by Great Britain from its island domain off the coast of Europe.

But instead of "the next Britain," Japan may well be "the next United States," rivaling our gross national production by the turn of the century.

From a $75 billion GNP in 1964, Japan rose to $140 billion last year, still well below our $400 billion but passing Great Britain, France and finally West Germany to trail only the U. S. and Russia.

As former Ambassador Edwin Reischauer noted this year after being replaced by Armin Meyer as U. S. envoy to Japan, "A nation doesn't have to be western to be successful. With a thin veneer of the West, the Japanese have found ways to handle problems, including urban overcrowding, which we might profitably study."

MORE ABOUT New Plea

Last Tuesday after a delegation of Cloverview residents appeared at a city council meeting to demand relief. The Cloverview area of Lynch, Veski, Spalding and Waterman streets drains its stormwater into Dobby Slough. Once the Slough was filled by heavy rainfall, water backed into the Lynch-Veski area and is still standing.

Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City said today that he has declared the Slough-Veski flood condition an emergency and has ordered continued pumping operations until the area is "drained." He said "there is no alternative, regardless of cost. We can't do anything about repairing the sewers or correcting the problem until the sewers are free of water."

Partney said he had discussed the cost factor with Ebersold and was assuming the pumping is being done on a three-way cost split between the levee district, the city and Nameoki township.

City pumping water out of Dobby Slough as much as any other part of the area and the only way to work it would be on a division of the cost," he said.

"I feel that Nameoki township is just as responsible as anyone else in the area," he said. "The new N. Main area is in Nameoki township."

After his meeting with Hanley at Springfield last Thursday, Ebersold said, Hanley telephoned Gov. Ogeltree at Chicago and the informed Ebersold that the levee trustees would hear later of any action the governor might take.

He also referred Ebersold to state Civil Defense officials who, in turn, referred him to William Eisele, regional state Civil Defense agent headquartered at Belleville, and suggested Ebersold get in touch with Eisele.

"I met with Eisele on Friday, and he told me that the Civil Defense department has no money," Ebersold said. "Eisele said the best he could do was the use of two pumps. They are both stored at Haute, Ind. I would have had to go there to sign for them, arrange the delivery and pay the freight. That really wasn't much help to us," the levee trustee added.

Ebersold said that he had heard nothing from the governor since his meeting in Springfield last week, adding to his decision this morning to make an immediate trip to Springfield.

The high level of Horseshoe Lake continued to isolate about 15 families along Layton road, which extends from Bend road into the residential and clubhouse area of the Horseshoe Lake and Gun Club.

Lake water continued to cover the area about a half-mile between the club area and the Horseshoe-Bend fire department building Saturday, forcing residents of the club area to use rowboats to travel to their homes, which they parked at the fire house.

Water Still Standing
Residents in the 4100 block of Division street report that flood waters appeared to be receding little if at all during the second day of the standing water. Water was becoming badly polluted with sanitary sewage. Division street is not to Breckenridge lane, which has been flooded on numerous occasions, even in moderate rains.

One woman resident of the area said homeowners of the area feel they are trapped between Grand City and Pontiac Beach, receiving flood waters from both directions with no one to deal with the conditions in the area.

She said that while there are supposed to be drainage lines running along Breckenridge, they are failing to drain the area.

Soak gallons of harmful moisture from the air with a G.E. dehumidifier

Now's the time to fight humidity in your basement with a General Electric dehumidifier... the super-sponge that takes gallons of harmful moisture out of the air every day.

Humidity destroys silently but so effectively. An entire winter wardrobe can mildew. Metal tools and appliances become rusty and useless... leather goods get moldy. Dripping pipes can ruin floor and ceiling tiles.

Prove it to yourself. Try a G.E. dehumidifier for five days free... with no obligation. Do it now, before a dank, sweating basement ruins your valuable belongings. Ask at our office about a free dehumidifier trial.

Glenwood Estates is not for everyone. Our homes were designed for families that want the little "extra" that gives meaning to their way of living. We wanted first air and a feeling of all the space that country living provides. We wanted trees, access to four-lane interstate highways. But above all, we wanted a good neighborhood to enjoy living and raising good, clean, happy children.

In addition, we wanted to provide all that city water, city gas, weekly trash pick-up, police protection, good streets, good schools, and easy access to all areas of the city and county. So Glenwood Estates came into being, with wide 100 foot lots, high on the bluff, on the corner of Interstate 270 and Route 157, and yet hidden from view.

Then we talked to builders... that build with a good Granite City builder... that build with pride. Not pre-fab houses, but good plastered walls, large basements, big fireplaces for full evenings, large kitchens for happy family fun, 2 baths to accommodate all the family, Anderson Thermopane double-pane windows to eliminate Dad from putting up storm windows, and all brick homes to help Dad rest instead of work when he gets home. Carpeting throughout, air-conditioning, sodging for the front yard, a dishwasher... and everything we could think of that would please a family.

When we had outlined all that we felt made a house a home, we came up with these spacious brick homes in Glenwood Estates. Our builder is proud of them... and so are we!

Glenwood Estates is not for everyone. For those that want the very best for their family... and still stay within their budget. Let us show you the houses and show you how you can afford to move up to Glenwood Estates.

Sincerely,
Dolores H. Rohrkaste
